LAFAYETTE, Ind., October 17.—The reception of the republican administration at the battle ground tonight and [illegible] The city is crowded with people [illegible] many thousands have already gone to battle ground. [illegible] direct parade, with [illegible] are this morning. Blaine [illegible] and left for the battle-ground accompanied by Governor Alger, Maine statesman drove to the ten thousand people surrounded the stage and cheered him [illegible] ovation.

TO GROUND NEAR LAFAYETTE, October 17.—Blaine, General Alger, Governor Gibson and other distinguished [illegible] arrived at the battle ground [illegible] The booming of cannon announced their arrival to the assembled [illegible] and brought enormous crowds [illegible] station to greet the guests of the day. [illegible] ten thousand people cheered the little station and the confusion was very great. Mr. Blaine not feeling well this morning having caught cold last night he did not immediately go on his car, but followed General Alger and General Gibson to the platform. The band struck up and [illegible] and not in the interest of the [illegible] The splendid policy of the Harrison administration [illegible] the Republican party and the American people.

At the close of Foster's speech Alger offered a [illegible] resolution for a [illegible] to Notre Dame.

Governor Gibson [illegible] would be [illegible] for the [illegible] announced with the [illegible] that there would be no [illegible] holidays [illegible] that the tariff [illegible] passed [illegible] Alger [illegible] resolution was carried with a [illegible]

Mr. Alger proceeded to address the [illegible] at the Cecil hotel. He referred to [illegible] address which [illegible] and introduced General Alger, [illegible] the multitude for half an hour. The distinguished Michigan [illegible] of annexation pulling upon [illegible] and declared that General Harrison would be the next occupant of the White house, the audience [illegible] and there afterwards [illegible] thousands outside.

Arrangements were then [illegible] grounds. Overflow [illegible] were also [illegible] During Alger's [illegible] confusion [illegible] and the [illegible] was compelled to stop several times, the crowds outside [illegible] to squeeze the life out of [illegible] the tabernacle. General Alger was the next speaker [illegible] he of his speech Blaine arrived [illegible] upon the platform, the music [illegible] and cheered frantically for minutes. Chairman Thompson [illegible] that Blaine's voice would not [illegible] him to make a speech to-day, [illegible] general health was good but his [illegible] as again troubling him, and he [illegible] excused. Blaine again came [illegible] and received another ovation [illegible] however was so great [illegible] not attempt to say a word, [illegible] his handkerchief, signifying [illegible] to be silent but the cheers [illegible] fashion continued. Blaine soon [illegible] to his car. He left at 2 40 for [illegible]

BLAINE IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, October 17.—Blaine and [illegible] arrived in Chicago at 8 o'clock this [illegible]

The train left the Battle [illegible] and nearly an hour late [illegible] generally known, at the hotel [illegible] that Blaine would have no early [illegible] Most trouble caused a change of [illegible] departure for Chicago. At the request of Blaine officials of the railway [illegible] permit their employes to [illegible] on the line that Blaine was to [illegible] in consequence. The trip [illegible] quiet and uneventful. Mr. Blaine's general [illegible] excellent, but a slight cold [illegible] contracted last night affects [illegible] cords and prevents [illegible] conversational tone. [illegible] states that he will be invited [illegible] Saturday, when he speaks [illegible] at the exposition. Shortly [illegible] reached the Grand Pacific hotel [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] paraded past the [illegible] received the run from Maine [illegible]

The [illegible] burned [illegible] and [illegible] the surrounding country sent [illegible] to witness the demonstration. Shortly after 10 o'clock [illegible] the [illegible] of Pikes Peak lodge [illegible] escorted by the Pueblo band [illegible] to the Denver and Rio Grande depot to meet Canton Arapahoe which was to arrive on the 10:30 train from Denver. The latter [illegible] half an hour late. The time spent waiting for it was interestingly spent in watching a drill by the local canton. Captain Wilson put the men through many intricate manoeuvres which were loudly applauded by the spectators. When the train drew up in front of the depot the band struck up a march and Canton Arapahoe was soon drawn up in line and headed by their drum corps marched to Hardman street before Tejon where the procession was forming. It was half past ten o'clock before the procession moved. The following was the order:

Platoon of Police.
Marshal
Colonel N. R. Hardman.

Get registered to day.

Ex-Mayor Wm. H. C. Pejon arrived from Europe on Monday.

The boards of registration will be in session again to day.

There will be a meeting of the Select Knights A. O. U. W. to night in their hall.

There is an unclaimed message at the Western Union office for Miss Florence Robertson.

Affairs at the county offices were extremely quiet yesterday, but few persons from the country being in town.

Mrs. Thos. Reynolds and daughter of Denver are visiting Miss Mae Curtis at her home in the Rock Island addition.

The republican marching club met last night in the armory and went through the usual drill. Another drill will be held on Thursday night.

Mr. William Clark the florist inserts an "ad" in this morning's GAZETTE. He is prepared to supply cut flowers of the choicest variety on a few days' notice.

Police Judge Shideler fined a man $8.60 for drunkenness yesterday. He was a discharged construction man from the Rock Island train and the first one that has yet been caught.

Hon. C. N. Beals, of Corsicana, Texas, will address the democratic voters at Court House hall this evening. Mr. Beals spoke at Manitou recently and is said to be a fine public speaker.

Mr. Dillwyn Parrish of London, England, Mr. James C. Parrish of New York and Mr. William Pearsall of Philadelphia registered at The Antlers on Monday night. Mr. Pearsall is an old friend of Mr. John L. Hamilton.

Dr. S. T. Bacey, the democratic candidate for state senator, returned from a protracted visit in the east on Monday. With the exception of Indiana he reports one of the most quiet national elections ever known in the east.

Mr. Clark's foster of the South Tejon street barber shop yesterday received a present from a friend in California of an Australian magpie. In all but its feather-markings it resembles its American cousin. Butler expects to make a "talker" out of it.

The boards of registration were all in session yesterday and did not more than half finish their work. The registration is very heavy in all the wards and the largest vote ever polled in the county will be taken on the 6th of November. The boards will all be in session again to day.

Yesterday morning Officer Rose of Colorado City ordered a man riding through the city at a rapid gait to halt. He failed to comply and the officer sent two shots after him, one of which took effect in the horse. The animal was brought to this city and was pretty badly hurt.

The manager of the celebrated Boston Quintette club writes the GAZETTE that the club has a number of engagements in the west this season and would be pleased to visit this city if a guarantee of $200 can be made him. Would it not be well for some of the musical society of the city to take the matter in hand?

There was filed in the county clerk's office on Monday a paper by the St. Joseph and Iowa Railroad company stating that its accredited agent in Colorado is Mr. W. J. Lawrence, with headquarters in this city, upon whom process could be served. The officers of the St. Joseph and Iowa road are R. R. Cable president and W. G. Purdy secretary.

The Denver Republican said yesterday morning: "Late last night Detective Hawley, accompanied by Mayor Bruxton of Colorado City, arrested Andrew Hotwell, who is wanted in Colorado Springs for grand larceny in stealing [illegible]. Hotwell was found in the house of a friend at Thirty-second and Lawrence streets. When found he objected very strenuously to going to jail, but Detective Hawley kindly overcame his objections and this morning he will be returned to Colorado Springs for trial."

Mr. Frank Cyphers, who has charge of the Manitou mineral water exhibit at the Mechanics' fair, has received the skeleton of an Indian mastodon of 10 feet in length. The fossil consists of the skull, the [illegible] of which are about three feet long, the backbone, the shoulder blades, the ribs, the [illegible] and the hind legs. The skeleton is in a fine state of preservation, and is said to be the most complete one in the collection of the institution.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon a runaway occurred on the corner of Tejon and Bijou streets. A team belonging to Mr. M. L. Dorr became frightened at the rocket and backed away from its hitching post, overturning the wagon. It struck a horse owned by Mr. Frank Gay, who made an effort to stop the runaways. It is said that Governor Hill will take the stump for Harrison. He will not travel, however, in the Bisbee combination.

The Buffalo Express says: "Ben Harrison is the most effective speaker on his own side, though he does not go about the country. He does not have to; the country comes to him."

Elsewhere will be found the qualifications of voters in Colorado and also the time of registration. Every republican should see that his name is on the list. The state is safe for Harrison and Morton, but every republican should try to have the majority as large as possible.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has a file of its papers in the Louisville city library. The Louisville Commercial has been making some very trying extracts from the old files. At first there was a disposition to question their accuracy, but an offer to deposit five thousand dollars in the bank by the Commercial settled the matter.

There is some chance of both the County Democracy and Tammany running independent candidates in the different congressional districts in New York. If they do, the probabilities are the republicans will gain two or three members for congress. This will make a very important gain as the democratic majority is now very narrow.

The poll of the vote on the Odd Fellows' excursion train yesterday, which resulted in 122 votes being cast for Harrison and 58 for Cleveland is very significant. The party was composed of representatives from all parts of the state, engaged in all professions and trades. The result 122 for Harrison and 58 for Cleveland would seem to signify that the majority for Harrison and Morton, which republican leaders place at 10,000 in this state will be greater than that.

The big republican demonstration which was held yesterday and will be continued to-day on the famous Tippecanoe battle ground was a grand success notwithstanding the great disappointment which was caused by Blaine's inability to speak on account of the loss of his voice. The traditions of the famous victory won by the grandfather of the present republican candidate for president, aroused tremendous enthusiasm. It is a fitting spot on which to meet to do honor to the distinguished grandson of the man who earned his title of the Father of the Northwest by protecting the settlers from the depredations of the Indians.

The facts brought out in the Harrison-Lowe libel suit in Iowa, where William Smith, who was one of the jurors that defeated Harrison for governor in 1875, proclaimed the public property Democrat, not free Strikers, but free as the wind, is now from the effect of all party disturbances. He says that he and others are ashamed of the verdict they rendered, were insufficient and to officially requested from the secretary of war the help of regular troops. General Harrison was personally requested by this democratic governor to [illegible] as a good soldier and citizen he did so, and used his influence to put down the mob and restore peace. This is certainly no reason for the democrats objecting to Harrison's election, more than the request for aid of a democratic governor.

We have been accustomed to consider Indiana one of the states that go to the last ditch every fall, and the past thirty years in the even years [illegible] but have taken place [illegible] Indiana has twice [illegible] Hendricks was on the ticket. First was in 1876 and 1884. They [illegible] twice each the electoral vote for Tilden and Cleveland, and for Hendricks. In the last fifteen years the state has gone republican in the presidential election. The Gazette does not wish to [illegible] but it is well to remember that the democrats will cast its vote for Harrison in November. [illegible] comparison. It is found that the elections which [illegible] the last thirty years. It has been claimed that the state is democratic only in the last fifteen years and that its vote has alternated in the presidential election and this does not [illegible].

In the chapter devoted to the postoffice department under the present administration the democratic Congress has [illegible] the star route and the steamboat contracts are shown increased efficiency and extraordinary expansion, and a decline in the number of depredations and defaulting postmasters and other postal employes. Expedition and accuracy have reached a degree of progress never before attained. The standard of competency of all employes is higher than ever before and the complaints are fewer than ever before. From beginning to end this statement is remarkable only for the wonderful amount of assumption it takes to make it, when the official records contradict it at many points. The revenue in 1885 was $42,596,511 83, and the estimated revenue for 1888 $53,261,379 34, an increase of 25 per cent. The revenue in 1881 was $33,315,479 31 and for 1884, $35,508,692.61, an increase of nearly 40 per cent. Thus three years of republican rule show an increase in revenues of nearly 10 per cent as compared with an increase of 25 per cent in three years of democratic rule. The [illegible] an increase of 19 per cent in the length of railway mail routes for the three years. The official report showed an increase of nearly 50 per cent from 1881 to 1884 in this direction. The "enormous" party expansion spoken of probably refers to the dead letter office where the business had increased 45 per cent in 1885 over that of 1884. The "greater accuracy" is demonstrated by the figures in misdirected letter pouches which were 2,725 in 1881 and 1,678 in 1885. On the total number of pieces of mail matter handled in 1884 there was one mistake in every 1151. In 1887 one mistake in every 3473. With regard to the claim that there have been fewer complaints under the democratic administration the recent report of the senate civil service committee after a thorough investigation of the postoffice service will furnish all the evidence necessary to enlighten the intelligent and unbiased men of both parties who were called before the committee in Philadelphia where a one armed soldier made way for a ward politician in the office of postmaster were almost unanimous in their testimony that the mail service in Philadelphia had never been so inadequate and unreliable. The democratic campaign book was intended as a bait for votes but it would have been better to have carefully avoided the subject of the postoffice department.

Dakota Farmers Destitute.

MINNEAPOLIS, October 17.—M. J. Harper of this city, who has been investigating the condition of farmers of Ramsey county, Dakota, reports starving to death returned last night. He says seventy families are absolutely destitute of food and fuel and something must be done immediately. The condition of the people is beyond description. Men, women and children are in rags. They have not a cent of money in the world and their crops were totally destroyed by frost in August and their last stock and farm implements mortgaged. Absolute distress prevails everywhere.
